Join us for "Wild Wochen" – celebrate the wild game season with us

Dear Juergen:

Schnitzelfest has come to an end, and we begin the Herbst Fest, or Wild Wolchen, featuring wild game. We have some wonderfully tasty new items on our menu for this season. Elk stew is one of our new offerings, created by our chef, Seth deWitt. All our wild game is farm raised in Oklahoma, insuring a stable supply during the fall.

November 22, 1963. Fifty years ago, John F. Kennedy was assassinated in downtown Dallas. Seth, our estimable chef has a wonderful collection of artifacts, newspapers, and other items, and has offered to share them with us at the Bavarian Grill. While many of these same items can be viewed at the Book Depository Museum, here you can see them up close and personal.

Below is a copy of the note made by JFK regarding his speech in Berlin. He wrote out the pronunciation phonetically so he could greet Berliners in their own tongue. While many joke that he called himself a do-nut, his use of "Berliner" was correct, and much appreciated by all Germans!

Greetings All!

It's time for our Eisbein dinner! This delicious dinner will be served on November 13th at 7pm in Elke's Biergarten. If you aren't familiar with Eisbein, it is a very generous, slightly smoked and cured ham hock served with mashed potatoes, sauerkraut, pea puree, two beers and an after-dinner shot of Obstler.

If you have not attended one of our Stein Club dinners this is one to attend. Great dinner, good friends old and new, cold Bier, and a reason to try Obstler, apple & pear schnapps.

The dinner is $ 29.75 per person with a $5.00 discount for Stein Club members. We are also offering the "Share an Eisbein" where the second person pays halfprice for the sides and beers.

Please RSVP by noon on November 12th! Due to the long cooking time we can only serve this special feast to those friends who call ahead at 972 881 0705 for reservations. If you are sharing your Eisbein, please let us know when making your reservation.
